MRS. ANNIE ETTER HERFURTH DEAD.

Mr. J. S. Herfurth sends us from Garland, Texas, the following account of the passing away of his mother, clipped from the Garland News:

Mrs. Annie Etter Herfurth was born in Ulmitz, Switzerland, February, 12, 1846, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marie Bergener, 3926 Crutcher street, Dallas, March 29, 1925, aged 79 years, 1 month and 17 days. She came to America with her parents in 1852 and resided near San Antonio for a number of years. She was married to J. C. Herfurth, January 3, 1874. They moved to Dallas county in 1900 and located on a farm near Rowlett. Her husband died February 7, 1914, and since that time she has spent part of the time with her son, John Herfurth and family and her daughter, Mrs. Bergener. She was a member of the Lutheran church and had been since the age of twelve. Funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. Roberts with burial in Mills Cemetery. Following were the pall bearers: Newt Morrison, of Garland; Messrs. Fritz, Stucely, Kramer, Bailey and Hergert all of Dallas. A large number of Dallas friends accompanied the remains here. She leaves two children, John Herfurth of Rowlett and Mrs. Marie Bergener of Dallas and two grandchildren. The floral offering was beautiful and testified the esteem in which the family is held.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion and act as a general strength-giving tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

Since the war time prices and prosperity among the agricultural people of this section, we have had continued prosperity and the seasons have been regular and good. It is going to be hard to put on the brakes
and slow down to old time living;
but it looks now like we will have to come to it again. The older settlers say it has been common for fifty years to have droughts occasionally.
Really we have gone longer that usual without it. The most of us have been living entirely too fast, expecting the prosperity to continue.

Eddie Shelton went over to Hondo one day to consult with his father regarding contract work; but decided to stay in Devine a while longer.

Fletcher's State Rights Farming,
current issue, gives an interesting table of Medina county rainfall, as kept by Mr. Fritz Rothe the past forty years, at the Rothe ranch, north of Hondo. The greatest rainfall of any one year was 49 1-8, in 1905; the smallest, 12 1-4, in 1901. In 1923, we had 38.87, last year 27.58. In 1899, no rain was received until April, and but 12 inches were reported in one had over 25 for the year.

CAMERON EDITOR DOMI-NOES ON COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Admitting that they had all been guilty of more or less disloyalty to home merchants and home enterprises, the directors and committee chairmen of the Commercial Club on Monday evening promised to do better hereafter, so the home merchants and the home printers may expect better business in the future.

The question of civic loyalty came to the surface when some one mentioned the fact that Cameron was being overrun with agents and peddlers from the cities who were getting business rightfully belonging to the home merchants. It was suggested that the home papers be asked to put on a "Buy It At Home" campaign. Then it was that one of the editors popped up and said, "If the members of the Commercial Club will have their printing done at home,
the home papers will do the rest."

Then an experience meeting followed. Everyone admitted that he had been guilty of disloyalty to a certain extent and all agreed to "not do it any more."

Cameron's prosperity, like that of every other town and small city in Texas, depends upon loyalty to home people.
We must "live and let live" in Cameron, or move to one of the big cities and become city salesmen, unless the cityward tide can be stemmed.

PIONEER WOMEN VS. THE FLAPPER

Harold Bell Wright, Famous Author, Challenges Younger Generation in New Novel.

Is America denying God?
Are we losing the sturdy faith and rugged virtues which transformed a wilderness into the world's greatest and most prosperous country?
Is the old pioneer spirit dead?
Do modern "improvements" improve?

Where is this new generation headed?

These are some of the questions which Harold Bell Wright raises in his new novel of Western adventure, "A Son of His Father," which is being published serially in McCall's Magazine. The former clergyman, who is now the world's most popular author, sits straight from the shoulder. Thus he says of Tucson, Ariz., on a ranch near which most of the action in the story takes place:

Church Changed to Garage

"The Tucson of today, in the heart of this old, old land, is a city of fathers and sons. The fathers, with their ox teams, stage coaches and Indian wars, laid here the foundation upon which they hoped their sons would build a civilization worthy of the race. And the sons are building. With feverish activity they are putting down pavements, putting up electric lights, putting down gas and water pipes, putting up real estate signs, putting down more city wells, and extending the city limits to include new additions of the surrounding desert.

"With a fine contempt for the past they have destroyed the ancient wall, THE OLD AND THE NEW demolished many of the picturesque adobe structures of history, renamed the century-old streets, converted the beautiful old Saint Augustine Church into an unsightly garage and erected dance halls where, within the shadow of a heroic past, their sons and daughters may have all the modern advantages of a thorough education in jazz.

Petting Parties Where Brave Pioneer Women Fought and Died

"On the very spot where men died to save their wives and children from the knives of the painted savages, and women fought and endured beside their men, the grandchildren of those courageous souls hold petting parties and are bold only in their indecencies."

It is from the effete, decadent influences of the present day that Mr. Wright appeals to the sturdy, stalwart virtues of another time when men, whether good, bad or indifferent, at least were men, two-gunned, fearless, able to hold and maintain their own. This point of view is brought out by Max Drayton, one of the characters in the story, who, in a conversation with an Eastern author, says:

"The thing that's interesting a lot of our old timers is: while we're shedding our wild and woolly ways, and getting shed of our guns, are we throwing away a lot of things with 'em that we ought to hang on to?"

Old-Time Gamblers Had Their Virtues
"You take even our gamblers—the old-time professionals, I mean—they had mighty well-set standards of honor and decency and fair play that they lived up to and sometimes died for."

"The old-time, wide-open, gambling days are gone—and we're all glad of it—but I'm telling you, sir, it wouldn't do us a bit of harm if a lot of our young business men of these days had some of the old-style gambling standards of honor and decency and fair play, and had 'em strong enough to die for 'em—if it was necessary."

The scene of "A Son of His Father" is intimately known to Mr. Wright. It was not necessary for him to "gather atmosphere," as he lives in Arizona and is keenly interested in the history and traditions of that state. Critics pronounce this the best and most vigorous of all Mr. Wright's works and clergymen everywhere are urging their congregations to read it. It is the first time that one of Harold Bell Wright's novels has been published serially in advance of book publication. Heretofore the author has rejected the many alluring offers which magazine editors made to him. It is announced that this is the last Western novel which the former clergyman will write in some time. But it does not mean that he will abandon the enormous audience which waits each new work from his pen. On the contrary, he has planned over dozen more books.

QUIHI NOTES.

Next Sunday Rev. H. Krause of Maxwell will be here and preach an English sermon in Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 10:30 a. m., and hold a visitation. All are welcome. Please bring your English hymn books to this service.

At 2 p. m., Rev. Krause will preach a German sermon in the New Fountain Lutheran Church and also hold a visitation in connection with this service. All are cordially welcome.

The committee having the prospective lawn social arrangements in hand has decided to hold the social on the Bethlehem Lutheran Church lawn on the night of May 5th. The details of an interesting program, etc., will be announced later.

Last Sunday the baptism of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hy. J. Boehle took place in Bethlehem Lutheran Church. The sponsors for the little lady were Mr. and Mrs. Hy. G. Boehle. The child received the name Erlene Rose. The event was nicely celebrated at the child's home, a number of relatives and friends being present to enjoy the excellent dinner and sociability.

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Misses Gertrude Reilly and Willa Mae Gaines were joint hostesses to the Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon. Tallies depicting dainty maidens in vari-colored dresses were passed to the guests and five exciting games of Bridge were played. Mrs. R. J. Noonan held high score and was awarded a lovely handkerchief of georgette crepe. Refreshments of ice cream, molded to represent pink roses, and angel food cake were served at the conclusion of the games. Plate favors were white and pink roses.

Four new members were added to the Club's membership as follows: Mesdames O. H. Miller, R. J. Noonan, W. H. Smith and R. J. Decker. Others present were: Mesdames L. E. Heath, C. W. Monkhouse, C. L. Johnson, L. J. Brucks, Earl O'Neill, Earl Starnes, R. L. Jennings, J. P. Forgason, R. W. Gaines, R. J. Reilly, John Becker of Belen, N. M. and Jack Reilly, and Misses Fay Russell, Mabel Holloway, Clara and Luren Decker, Bess and Lillian Brucks and the hostesses.

D'HANIS WAREHOUSE BURNED.

The Hondo Fire Department made a run to D'Hanis between 2:00 and 3:00 o'clock this morning (Saturday) in answer to an appeal for aid from that town. Both the chemical equipment and big pumper responded, but the Farmers' Union Warehouse was doomed before the fire-fighters reached the scene of the conflagration.

The scarcity of water rendered the aid of the fire company almost useless. While some little water would have been available had the big pumper had a few feet more of hose, as it was it could not be reached.

A good deal of feed stuff was stored in the warehouse which, together with the building, was completely consumed. Some insurance was carried, but whether sufficient to cover the loss, we are not advised. We are not advised as the origin of the fire.

Putting the Hog on a Normal Basis

Many years of study and experiment have ended uncertainty as to what is best for the hog, says a recent report. In pork raising, as in building up any other source of profit on the farm, much can be learned through the experience of others.

The U. S. Government and Agricultural Colleges spend big sums each year at their experimental stations. Both the Government and the Agricultural Colleges issue literature which tells about these experiments in detail. Anyone interested can secure the literature without cost by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture or such Agricultural Experimental Stations. The great value in Government bulletins lies in the fact that they are based on the results of observation and study by trained, experienced men and at an expense which makes it prohibitive for the farmer to make these experiments himself.

Generally speaking, hogs have a normal period of growth and development. Many raisers ship before the hogs are finished—others hold their hogs and feed them beyond the period that the herd would be most profitable for them. It is natural, with high feed prices, that the raiser is reluctant to hold his hogs any longer than absolutely necessary, even though the hog market is good; but it is a mistake to start raising a market herd and quit before the job is really finished.

Judging from prices of the past few months, a fat hog is the one that is commanding a premium and, experts say, will continue to do so for some time. That is because of the large numbers of unfinished hogs that have been and are still being sent to market. Using the Chicago hog market for a day in mid-December, 1924, a 170 lb. hog brought $14.10, while a 265 lb. hog brought $26.55, or a difference of $12.45.

The average hog raiser knows that it takes about 400 lbs. of corn and 40 lbs. of tankage to bring in that last 100 lbs. of weight, or in dollars and cents, approximately $10.00 for the last 100 lbs. in feed expense, leaving more than $2.25 per pig for the additional trouble.

Shipping weights of hogs are reflected in the feed crop. Last year the corn crop in many sections was small and therefore most of the hogs sent to market ranged around the 175 lb. class. Unless relative market prices on either hogs or feed are extremely abnormal, it pays the raiser to go through with his feeding program up to that stage where he can secure the greatest benefit from his efforts and the best market price for his pork.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Hondo Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Hondo people. Profit by this Hondo resident's experience:

B. H. Robinson, carpenter, says: "I was troubled with my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times at night to pass the kidney secretions which were scalding and highly colored. I had dizzy spells and black specks appeared before my eyes. My head ached and I had sharp pains through my kidneys. Doan's Pills regulated my kidneys and my back never aches now."

ALBERT TAMPKE JR. DEAD.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Boehle and children and Mrs. Fritz Borchers passed through Hondo Saturday afternoon returning from Utopia where they had been to attend the funeral of their cousin, Albert Tampke, Jr.

Mr. Tampke, who was only 38 years of age died at his home near Utopia at 11 o'clock Thursday night, April 9, 1925, after a brief illness. He was buried at 4 o'clock p. m. the next day. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral.

It sometimes happens that an editor, week after week boosts and advocates trading at home. The business man pats him on the back and bids him "go to it," and then refuses to support the editor's paper with an occasional ad and orders his job work from an out-of-town printery. And still some people fail to realize that this is a funny world.

Simple Exercises to Keep You Slender

Claire Windsor, who is appearing in "The Denial," demonstrates a few simple exercises which keep her fit.

No. 1. In these days, when boyish forms and slender, supple bodies are the fashion, care must be taken to keep the diaphragm and abdomen as slender as possible. The body twisting exercise, such as Claire Windsor is shown taking, is one of the best for this purpose. Stand perfectly straight and twist the body from the waist, first right then left. This exercise strengthens the abdominal muscles and reduces the diaphragm and abdomen.

No. 2. Perhaps one of the most important exercises for general health is the breathing exercise, which fills the lungs with pure, fresh air and expands and develops the chest. To breathe in deeply and at the same time develop the chest and straighten the shoulders, Miss Windsor stands perfectly straight and slowly raises her arms sideways as far as they will go, then upwards until they are extended full length above the head. "To get the most out of this exercise inhale slowly so that the fullest capacity is reached when the arms are at the highest point," says Miss Windsor, "then exhale rapidly while bringing the arms down to position slowly. Repeat this exercise not less than ten times."

No. 3. For suppleness of body and grace of movement, Miss Windsor performs this bending exercise. First she bends her body forward at the waistline, then to the right, then backwards and finally to the left. This exercise performed several times in rotation strengthens the abdominal muscles as well as reducing the waistline and developing a graceful posture and carriage.

Have you heard about this improved Eberhard Faber pencil? It's a peach! Smooth writing, long lasting, and an eraser that really erases! We recommend it.

EMPRESS Pencil No. 434

You pay for both ends of the pencil you buy—that is why so much care has been taken to place an eraser on the end of the "Empress," that will erase easily, smoothly and cleanly. The rubber is soft and flexible; it will not harden or dry up; it will not roughen the writing surface; when used, it cleans the paper as it erases the mark.

NOT MERELY COFFEE BUT EXCELLENT COFFEE

The Hondo fire laddies are good and strong when it comes to fighting fire, but they are somewhat weak when fighting for victory on the base ball diamond. In the benefit game, played Tuesday afternoon, when the fire boys had the team of the Hondo High School as their opponents, the fire fighters annexed the small end of the score, the game going to the school boys 9 to 6. While we haven't heard any of the fire boys kicking we suppose, as usual, they give the umpire's partiality to their opponents as the reason for their failure to cross the home plate often. However, as the gate receipts added some $62.00 to the funds of the fire company the fire boys take their defeat very complacent.

The advertising man for the Miller Brother's big moving picture feature film, Trail Dust, arrived in crowd Monday night. Trail Dust The animal attracted considerable interest and the picture drew a big crowd Monday night. Trail Dust portrays in a realistic manner the hardships and dangers of pioneer life, and through it runs the love romance of a brave, rough man and a brave, good woman. You should not fail to see Trail Dust should you ever have the opportunity.

MRS. BECKER ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. John Becker, Jr., of Belen, New Mexico was honored at a very lovely bridge and "42" party when Mesdames Robert Decker, Oscar Miller and R. J. Noonan entertained at the home of the latter. The double parlor and dining room were thrown together and eight tables of guests found their partners by tally cards of gay April design. Cut glass baskets, wall vases and flower land of roses and spring flowers further indicated the past-Lenten festivities. At the conclusion of a number of animated games Mrs. Earl Starnes was found to be holder of high score in "42" and Miss Bess Brucks in bridge. The hostesses presented the honor guest with a dainty gift as a remembrance. At 6:30 hostesses served a delicious frozen pineapple salad, with chicken sandwiches, olives, potato chips, cream puffs and spiced tea to the following guests: Misses Lurine Decker, Lillian Brucks, Gertrude Rely, Mabel Holloway, Bess Brucks, Fay Russell, Clara Decker and Willa Mae Gaines; Mesdames Felix Batot, Andrew Bless, Walter Rothe, F. S. Cockrell, W. H. Smith, Alice Reinhart, C. J. Schuehle, R. J. Nixon, Lou Heath, J. Finger, Earl Starnes, Charley Johnson, Horace Bradley, H. J. Meyer, Minke Muennink, Brauley of Weatherford, Charley Monkhouse, Felix Richter, L. J. Brucks, Henry Merriman, P. P. Brewster, Albert Decker, the hostesses and honoree.

ATTENTION CITIZENS.

Beginning Wednesday, April 22, and continuing indefinitely, the siren of the Hondo Fire Department will be sounded each Wednesday evening. This notice is given in advance so that the people will not become excited, thinking a fire is in progress.

The sounding of the Siren is a precautionary measure to determine whether it is at all times in condition for alarm should it be necessary.

The sounding will occur at 7:30 p. m. every Wednesday.

When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them

No. 1

Question: Why are more women driving Buicks than any other make of six-cylinder car?

Answer: One reason is the striking appearance of this famous motor car. Then comes Buick dependability. A woman knows when she starts out with her Buick that she will "get there and back." Other reasons are—the comfort in driving a Buick—the velvet clutch action, easy steering; then the power and quietness of Buick's Valve-in-Head engine and the safety of Buick mechanical four-wheel brakes.
